Society
OF THE Sons of the Revolution

In the State of New York.

INSTITUTED	-	-	-	FEBRUARY 22, 1876.
REORGANIZED	-	-	-	DECEMBER 3, 1883.
INCORPORATED	-	-	-	MAY 3, 1884.

Constitution.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, it has become evident from the decline of proper celebration of such National holidays as the Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday, and the like, that popular interest in the events and men of the War of the Revolution is less than in the earlier days of the Republic ;

AND WHEREAS, this lack of interest is to be attributed not so much to lapse of time as to the neglect on the part of descendants of Revolutionary heroes to perform their duty of keeping before the public mind the memory of the services of their ancestors, and of the times in which they lived, and of the principles for which they contended ;

THEREFORE, the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" has been instituted, to perpetuate the memory of the men who, in military, naval or civil service, by their acts or counsel, achieved American Independence ; to promote and assist in the proper celebration of the anniversaries of Constitution of the New York Society.

Washington's Birthday, the Battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill, the Fourth of July, the Capitulations of Saratoga and Yorktown, the formal Evacuation of New York by the British Army, on the 3d of December, 1783, as a relinquishment of territorial sovereignty, and other prominent events relating to or connected with the War of the Revolution; to collect and secure for preservation the manuscript rolls, records and other documents and memorials relating to that War; to inspire among the members and their descendants the patriotic spirit of their forefathers; to inculcate in the community in general sentiments of Nationality and respect for the principles for which the patriots of the Revolution contended; to assist in the commemorative celebration of other great historical events of National importance, and to promote social intercourse and the feeling of fellowship among its members.

ARTICLE I.

Name of Society.

The Society shall be known by the name, style and title of "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION."

ARTICLE II.

Membership.

Any male person, above the age of twenty-one years, shall be eligible to membership in the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" who is descended from an ancestor, as the propositus, who, either as a military, naval or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, or official in the service of any one of the thirteen original Colonies or States, or of the National Government representing or composed of those Colonies or States, assisted in establishing American Independence during the War of the Revolution, between the 19th day of April, 1775, when hostilities commenced, and the 19th day of April, 1783, when they were ordered to cease.

Provided: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor in the "minute men" or "militia," it must be satisfactorily shown that such ancestor was actually called into the service of the State or United States, and performed garrison or field duty; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as a "sailor" or "marine," it must in like manner be shown that such service was other than shore duty and regularly performed in the Continental Navy, or the Navy of one of the original thirteen States, or on an armed vessel, other than a merchant ship, which sailed under letters of marque and reprisal, and that such ancestor of the applicant was duly enrolled in the ship's company, either as an officer, seaman, or otherwise than as a passenger ; and Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as an "official," such service must have been performed in the civil service of the United States, or of one of the thirteen original States, and must have been sufficiently important in character to have rendered the official specially liable to arrest and imprisonment, the same as a combatant, if captured by the enemy, as well as liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain.

Service in the ordinary duties of a civil office, the performance of which did not particularly and effectively aid the American Cause, shall not constitute eligibility.

In the construction of this article, the Volunteer Aids de Camp of General Officers in Continental Service, who were duly announced as such and who actually served in the field during a campaign, shall be comprehended as having performed qualifying service.

The civil officials and military forces of the State of Vermont, during the War of the Revolution, shall also be comprehended in the same manner as if they had belonged to one of the thirteen original States.

No service of an ancestor shall be deemed as qualifying service for membership in the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" where such ancestor, after assisting in the cause of American Independence, shall have subsequently either adhered to the enemy, or failed to maintain an honorable record throughout the War of the Revolution.

No person shall be admitted unless he be eligible under one of the provisions of this Article nor unless he be of good moral character and be judged worthy of becoming a member.

ARTICLE III.

Officers.

The officers of the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Registrar, and

Such declaration shall be in writing, and subscribed by the member making it.

ARTICLE VII.

ARTICLE VIII.

They may, through the Secretary, call special meetings of the Society at such times as they may see fit ; and they may arrange for commemorative celebrations by the Society.

They shall recommend plans to the Society for promoting its purposes, and, when practicable, may digest and prepare business for its meetings, and shall supervise all publications issued in its name, and decide whether copies of records or other documents or papers may be furnished on request of any party, in cases not pertaining directly to the business of the Society, and the proper conduct of its affairs.

They shall generally superintend the interests, and shall have the control and management of the affairs and funds of the Society. They shall also perform such duties as may be prescribed by the Constitution and By-Laws, or required by any Standing Rule or Resolve of the Society ; provided, however, that they shall at no time be required to take any action nor contract any debt for which they shall be jointly or severally liable. They shall be competent to consent to and to accept the resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership of any enrolled member of the Society.

They may require the attendance of any member of the Society, or any official or Committee thereof, at any meeting, for consultation and advice.

The Board of Managers shall meet as often as they may desire, or at the call of the President, or upon the written request of any three members of the same, addressed to the Secretary.

of honor, or by an opposition to the interests of the community in general or of this Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue a member, or who shall persistently transgress, or, without good excuse, willfully neglect or fail in the performance of any obligation enjoined by the Constitution or By-Laws or any standing Rule of this Society. Provided, that such member shall have received at least ten days' notice of the complaint preferred against him, and of the time and place for hearing the same, and have been thereby afforded an opportunity to be heard in person.

Whenever the cause of expulsion shall not have involved turpitude nor moral unworthiness, any member thus expelled may, upon the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Managers, but not otherwise, be restored to membership by the Society at any meeting.

The Board of Managers shall also have power to drop from the Roll the name of any enrolled member of the Society who shall be at least two years in arrears in the payment of dues, and who, on notice to pay the same, shall fail and neglect to do so within ten days thereafter, and upon being thus dropped, his membership shall cease and determine; but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Board of Managers, on his application therefor, and upon his payment of all such arrears and of the annual dues from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration. The Board of Managers may also suspend any officer from the performance of his duties, for cause; which proceeding must be reported to the Society and acted upon by it within thirty days, either by rescision of the suspension or removal of the suspended officer from office, or otherwise the suspension shall cease.

SECTION XII.

Vacancies and Terms of Office.

Whenever an officer of this Society shall die, resign, or neglect to serve, or be suspended, or be unable to properly perform the duties of his office, by reason of absence, sickness or other cause, and whenever an office shall be vacant, which the Society shall not have filled by an election, the Board of Managers shall have power to appoint a member to such office pro tempore, who shall act in such capacity until the Society shall elect a member to the vacant office, or until the inability due to "suspension, absence, sickness or other cause" shall cease. Provided, however, that the office of President or Secretary shall not thus be filled by the Board of Managers, when there shall be a Vice-President or Assistant Secretary to enter upon the duties of those offices respectively.

In like manner, the Board of Managers may supply vacancies among its members, under the same conditions and limitations; and in case any member thereof, other than an officer, shall be absent from three consecutive meetings of the same, his place therein may be declared vacant by the Board of Managers and filled by an appointment which shall continue in full effect until the Society shall elect a successor.

Subject to these provisions, all officers of the Society, and the members of the Board of Managers, shall, from the time of their election or appointment, continue in their respective offices until the next annual meeting, and until their respective successors shall be duly chosen.

SECTION XIII.

Resignation.

No resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership of any member enrolled in this Society shall become effective as a release from the obligations thereof, unless consented to and accepted by the Board of Managers.

SECTION XIV.

Disqualification.

No person who may be enrolled as a member in this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership where the proofs of claim of qualification by descent shall be found to be defective and insufficient to substantiate such claim, or not properly authenticated. The Society, or the Board of Managers, may, at any time after thirty days' notice to such person to properly substantiate or authenticate his claim, require the Secretary to erase his name from the list of members, and such person shall thereupon cease to be a member: Provided, he shall have failed or neglected to comply satisfactorily with such notice.

Where the Board of Managers shall direct the erasure of a person's name for a cause comprehended under this section, such person shall have a right of appeal to the next annual meeting of the Society; but he shall not be restored to membership unless by a vote of three-fourths of the members present on that occasion, or at a subsequent meeting to which the consideration of the appeal may have been specifically postponed.

SECTION XV.

Annual and Special Meetings.

The Society shall hold an annual meeting in the city of New York on the third day of December in every year, at which a general election of officers and managers, by ballot, shall take place, except when such date shall fall on Sunday, in which case the meeting shall be held on the following day.

In such election the polls shall be open one and one-half hours, and a majority of the ballots given for any office or for a manager shall constitute a choice therefor; but, if on the first ballot no member shall receive such a majority, then a further balloting, in such case, shall forthwith take place, in which a plurality of votes given shall determine the choice therefor. During any election the regular Order of Business may be proceeded with.

Stated meetings shall be held on the first Monday in February, May and November in each year, at such time and place as the Board of Managers shall direct. At these meetings historical addresses and papers may be presented, researches encouraged, social intercourse promoted and the general business of the Society transacted.

Special meetings shall be held by direction of the Board of Managers, or upon the written request of thirty members of the Society, at such time and place as said Board may direct. At such special meeting no business shall be transacted except such as shall be specified in the notice therefor.

One week's notice of time and place of annual or special meetings shall be given by publication in two daily newspapers in the city of New York, and by mailing through the post-office in said city a written or printed notice to every member of the Society.

At all meetings of the Society thirty members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The meetings of the Society for business shall be generally conducted according to Parliamentary Law, and the following Order of Business shall, as far as the same may be applicable, be followed:

THE HISTORY OF THE

REIGN OF
HAROLD GODWINSON
BY
JOHN G. RICHARDS

CHAPTER I

THE NORMAN CONQUEST

THE NORMAN CONQUEST OF ENGLAND, which took place in the year 1066, was one of the most important events in the history of the British Isles. It marked the beginning of a new era in the country's history, and led to the establishment of a new dynasty, the Normans, who ruled England for nearly three centuries.

The Normans were a people of French origin, who had settled in the north-western part of France in the tenth century. They were a brave and warlike people, and had become powerful under the leadership of their dukes. In 1066, Duke William the Conqueror, who was the ruler of Normandy, invaded England, claiming the throne on the basis of a promise made to him by the late King Edward the Confessor.

At the time of the invasion, England was ruled by King Harold Godwinson, who was a powerful nobleman and the most powerful man in the country. Harold had been crowned king in January 1066, and had been successful in repelling a Danish invasion in September of the same year. However, he was faced with the challenge of William's invasion, and had to prepare for battle.

The battle of Hastings, which took place on October 14, 1066, was a decisive battle between the Normans and the English. Harold's army was defeated, and he was killed. William then entered London and was crowned king on December 25, 1066. This marked the beginning of the Norman era in England. The Normans introduced many changes to the country, including the feudal system, which was a system of land tenure in which the king granted land to nobles in return for their military service. The Normans also introduced the Norman language, which was a mix of French and English, and the Norman culture, which was a mix of French and English culture.

The Norman Conquest had a profound effect on the history of England. It led to the establishment of a new dynasty, the Normans, who ruled England for nearly three centuries. The Normans introduced many changes to the country, including the feudal system, which was a system of land tenure in which the king granted land to nobles in return for their military service. In order to secure as far as may be in the Board of Managers stability in procedure and familiarity with precedents in the business affairs of the Society, every Nominating Committee shall, in making nominations for the suffrages of the Society of members of said Board other than those who are ex-officio members, so arrange their recommendations as to provide for the retirement annually of not less than three nor more than four of those who shall have served longest continuously on said Board, and for the continuance of a proportionate number.

THE BATTLE OF HARLEM HEIGHTS.

This action was a brilliant American success, following the disastrous defeat on Long Island and the loss of New York in 1776. On September 16, Washington's troops were encamped on the high ground above Manhattanville north of the line of One Hundred and Thirty-third Street, with the British below them south of One Hundred and Seventh Street. Instructed by the Commander-in-Chief to feel the enemy's position, Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas Knowlton, of Connecticut, one of the heroes of Bunker Hill, marched out at dawn with his corps of "Rangers" and soon encountered the red coats near the latter street and West End Avenue. Engaging in a lively skirmish he drew the enemy out of their lines and retreated fighting to the American outposts. The British, some three hundred strong, followed to about the line of One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street, west of the Boulevard. Here the skirmish developed into sharper fighting, and at eleven o'clock the main action of the day began. Our troops on the opposite slopes opened fire, to which the enemy replied for nearly an hour. In the meantime Washington attempted to surround the British by sending Knowlton and his Rangers, reinforced with three Virginia rifle companies under Major Andrew Leitch, around to their rear. These detachments, taking a course east of the Boulevard, advanced with great spirit, but through some misapprehension struck the flank rather than the rear of their foe. The movement, however, compelled the retreat of the British, and the American troops immediately pursued them. In the flank attack Knowlton and Leitch, leading their men with soldierly courage, both fell mortally wounded within a short distance and within a few minutes of each other. The Tablet represents this scene in the action—the dashing onset of the Rangers and Riflemen at a point on the line of the Boulevard in the vicinity of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street. The pursuit continued up the hillside to the east of General Grant's tomb, and at the top of the plateau, from about One Hundred and Twentieth Street southward, the enemy, receiving reinforcements, made a second stand. Washington, also, sent forward additional forces, and a "well-contested" engagement followed, lasting nearly two hours. The best troops of both armies were in the field, the Americans being led by Generals Putnam, Greene and George Clinton. In view of their recent defeats our men sustained the fight with surprising persistency. Recovering their native ardor they boldly attacked the regulars in the open, and, in the words of General Clinton, again "worsted" them, driving them back to their lines with considerable loss. Washington recalled his troops, and they left the ground, we are told, with a loud "Hurra." The battle-field thus extends for about a mile south of old Manhattanville on the west side, and the Tablet has been placed in the centre, on and facing the plateau, where the principal fighting and final pursuit occurred. Throughout our camp the action was hailed as a signal American victory, and its immediate inspiring effect was marked and important.
